MARIE LANGEVIN GETS 3 YEARS IN PRISON

School Secretary Goes to Penitentiary

LAC LA BICHE—With a charge of arson and 337 charges of uttering still to be dealt with Marie Yvonne Langevin, 31--year-old former secretary-treasurer of Lac la Biche school division, was sentenced in Edmonton Supreme Court, Monday, to three years in the womens penitentiary at Kingston, Ont.

She was the 'trusted public servant," who, in the words of Chief Justice O'Connor who sentenced her, "betrayed that trust, not once, but many times."

The 30 charges heard Monday involve forged cheques totalling $6,831.40. Miss Langevin admitted using them for her own purposes over a five-year period beginning December, 1945.

According to Prosecutor J. W. K. Shortreed, the department of education began the first investigation into finances of the division last January.

It found the division's financial statement too high compared with the school loan for Lac la Biche and asked the trustees for an explanation. RCMP was called in.

L. G. Hall, then superintendent of Lac la Biche school division called for an explanation and asked Miss Langevin to have the school division records ready the morning of Feb. 23. That morning there was a fire in the school office in which some of the records were destroyed.

Miss Langevin was charged with arson in connection with this fire, and pleaded not guilty. It will be heard at the Nov. 20 Supreme Court sittings along with the remaining charges of uttering.

The school trustees were later dismissed by Mr. Hall. But before leaving, their final official act was to dismiss Miss Langevin.

In passing sentence Chief Justice O'Connor told the accused "I have had consideration for your youth and for the fact that you have no previous record, but it cannot be ignored that you were a trusted public servant and that you betrayed that trust, not once but many times." His Lordship directed that the accused's store building and cottage at Lac la Biche be transferred to the school district as partial restitution.

Accused was committed for Supreme Court trial at a preliminary hearing held last April at Lac la Biche. She was arraigned in Edmonton Supreme Court in June before Chief Justice Howson and the case set for the next criminal assizes. Defence counsel were Neil D. Maclean and A. M. Dechene.

Miss Langevin is the youngest daughter of Joseph Langevin, and was born at Lac la Biche Mission where she attended school up to grade eight.

Her parents then moved to Lac la Biche.

For a time Miss Langevin worked in A. Hamilton's general store, and in 1943 she attended summer school at Alberta College in Edmonton.

November 10, 1944, she was named secretary of Lac la Biche School Division.

He trained at Emmanuel College, Saskatoon, and served his first years in the ministry in this Diocese—at Colington and Grande Prairie. After doing parish work in Saanich, B.C., and Calgary, he became warden of St. John's College, Winnipeg. He now follows in the steps of Bishop Sovereign as leader of the church in a diocese extending over all that part of Alberta north of a parallel some seventy miles north of Edmonton.

Bishop Pierce expects to pay his first visit to the Parish of Lac la Biche on Wednesday, Nov. 8, when he will preach at Evensong, and meet with the vestry.

In the Spotlight

Whatever happens in Alberta, this province continually is in the national public eye. We have legends built around our cowboy ranchlands, spectacular politics and now the fabulous get-hich-quick formulas being tried out successfully in the oil fields.

In Maclean's November 1st issue the Spotlight is turned on Redwtaer, and 60-year-old Mayor Walker who in addition to recently becoming mayor, acquired $35,000 and a bride.

We respectfully add our congratulations and good wishes to all those who have found good fortune in oil.

In years to come we'll be proud to say: "We knew them when——."

Winnie On World Government

Winston Churchill recently made a trip to Denmark, was cheered by massed thousands in the capital city of Copenhagen, and delivered a memorable speech. Most spectacular of his remarks was this:

"The creation of an authoritative, all-powerful world order is the ultimate end towards which we must strive. Unless some effective world super-government can be set up and brought quickly into action, the prospects for peace and human progress are dark and doubtful."

Like many, if not most Canadians, we've always had great respect for Mr. Churchill and his views on any subject. In this speech, however, it seems to us he reached for something pretty close to the moon.

There are some 270,000,000 people in Europe this side of the Iron Curtain. If they could drop their tariff barriers and their age-old hatreds and get together in a close federation, their two worst problems would be well on the way toward solution. These problems are: poverty, and the threat of Communist Russia.

Since the big wars habitually start in Europe, and have done so for centuries, a united Europe dedicated to peace, prosperity and self-defense would relieve the world of one of its worst war threats.

With all due respect to Mr. Churchill, we think he'd better go back to working for a United States of Western Europe and forget about a world super-government. That latter scheme looks impossible from any angle. There is some, though not too much, hope that a U.S.W.E. may one day be hammered together, if Churchill and like-minded Europeans will keep plugging away for it.

The Search

Once again the decency of the ordinary people of Alberta has been shown by the current search north of Edmonton for the five missing hunters who crashed in their aircraft somewhere in the wilds nearly three weeks ago.

Deepest sympathy goes out to the families of these men, along with a prayer of hope that they may still be found, safe and alive.

But the stirring, human part of the drama that has been unfolding these past weeks is that hundreds of busy people in towns all over northern Alberta dropped their work-a-day duties to join in the mass search for the missing men.

In addition to the dozens of RCAF aircraft that spent day after day sweeping over the search area, cavalcades of men went up from Edmonton, joined by residents of the small northern towns, to carry on the search on the ground.

Around Boyle especially, did this become evident. The people of that district went whole-heartedly into the search, and a vote of thanks goes out to them for their arduous work. To a lesser degree, the folks around Lac la Biche, actually miles from the probable scene of the accident, also went on the search, and the people around Whtiecourt started looking, too, and haven't yet given up.

In a world where nations of men seem to think little of starting bloody wars all over the globe, it is indeed reassuring to see a great mass search in action, to see whole communities of men working to save their fellow men.

Second Class Mail

By RAYMOND ARGYLE

There's a popular song being beaten out over the juke boxes these days that has something to say about home cooking and a fellow who's so far away from it that he doesn't even get any mail.

Well, we have one sure cure for the mail problem . . . just get yourself firmly esconsed in some newspaper office and buddy, you'll get plenty of it.

When I come to work each morning I find my desk piled practically to the ceiling with the stuff ( I manage to sneak in just after mailman), and it's always my first job to sort through it all.

Raymond Argyle

Although a large portion of the mail is consigned to the waste-basket in short order, there is some of its that's pretty interesting.

The mail can be just about classified in four categories; news copy from our hundred-odd country correspondents, publicity releases from individuals, companies and governments, crack-pot literature from fanatics with cure-alls, and fact material such as books, pamphlets, news letters and papers from all over the country.

The publicity releases don't take long to scan through, and most of them don't get any closer to appearing in print than do the scraps in my waste-basket, as press releases seem to be written without the least regard for what constitutes news.

Some, however, are a fine source of real news and they're edited accordingly and sent through for immediate publication.

Next is the crack-pot literature . . . like the expensive looking pamphlets that came yesterday expounding the theory that the only way to avert another World War is to outlaw meat-eating!

What I call the fact material is most interesting. Included in this category, of course, are copies of papers from all over the country with which we exchange subscriptions, but I always put those aside to read later.

Free books, pamphlets, and news letters are items I always like to get.

When these come in, we always try to carry a short story mentioning them, with just a brief outline of the nature of the material.

There's some pretty good stuff in the news letters. The banks, especially, send out worth-while material. I'm thinking particularly of the Bank of Montreal and the Royal Bank.

For instance, there's one on my desk from the Royal Bank devoted mostly to the simple subject of 'Criticism'. Might sound dull at first, but criticism is a thing that can do a lot of harm and hurt plenty of people. I think I learned something on reading the part about how to criticize . . . and how to take criticism.

Then, of course, there's always the really valuable pamphlets from banks and governments on the state of affairs in this Canada of ours. Want to find out how we're really doing? Just look over a few of these regularly; they give you the low-down on jobs, prices and the state of our welfare in general.

And for the people who live on farms, the provincial and federal governments issue some really valuable booklets of farm interest.

So there you have it. Ever get lonely for want of mail? Just come around and see us some time . . . we'll fix you up with an armful to take home!

Scriptural Meditations

"Jesus said, 'Ye shall ask in my name: and I say not unto you, that I will pray the Father for you: for the Father himself loveth you.' 'I have chosen you . . . that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you.' John 16:26, 27; 15:16. But to pray in the name of Jesus is something more than a mere mention of that name at the beginning and the ending of a prayer. It is to pray in the mind and spirit of Jesus, while we believe his promises, rely upon his grace, and work his works.

"God does not mean that any of us should become hermits or monks, and retire from the world, in order to devote ourselves to acts of worship. The life must be like Christ's life—between the mountain and the multitude. He who does nothing but pray will soon cease to pray, or his prayers will become a formal routine.

When men take themselves out of social life, away from the sphere of Christian duty and cross-bearing; when they cease to work earnestly for the Master, who worked earnestly for them, they lose the subject matter of prayer, and have no incentive to devotion. Their prayers become personal and selfish. They cannot pray in regard to the wants of humanity or the upbuilding of Christ's kingdom, pleading for strength wherewith to work."

—Steps to Christ.

Dear Sir,—At all times, when requested, the staff of your South Edmonton Sun has been most co-operative in giving excellent publicity to any activity arranged for the members of the Garneau Lawn Bowling Club. Raw Deal

Dear Sir—At the close of World War I, thousands of our ex-enemies, the Germans, Austrians, etc., settled in Canada, and now, at the age of 70, they are drawing Canadian old-age pensions, while the disabled veterans of that war are de-barred from it, because they get a meagre war disability pension.

How very logical! Go overseas to defend Canada's wealth and liberty, get shot up and maimed or blinded, and as soon as you accept a war disability pension, you forfeit your civil rights to a larger OAP, which is paid to everyone else, including communists.

What a jackass of a law and what an incentive to patriotism! What has our MP, Mr. Welbourne of Jasper-Edson, got to say about this? Cut this out and send it to Prime Minister St. Laurent.

Dear Sir,—To those of us who have closely followed the career of Joe Louis the recent Louis-Ezzard bout was a heart-break. Louis has been to me, anyway, a great ideal. So here's to a great ideal and a great guy. He'll still be the world champion to many of us.

Sloppy Speech

Dear Sir,—What is happening to the grammar of this country? You hear even nice people who should know better saying things like "I seen," "I have went," "I have sang," etc. I can't understand how people who have access to newspapers and magazines can indulge in such ignorant-sounding speech.

COMMENT FROM THE PRESS

Education Available To All

(From Creston, B.C., Review)

We happen to know a family of four boys who once lived in an isolated place and who took all of their high school courses by correspondence. They stood high in all final examinations. Three of these four boys are today professional men, and the fourth a successful businessman.

We mention this to show that the question of whether correspondence courses are satisfactory depends entirely upon the student and his or her application to studies.

We admit there are some drawbacks to correspondence courses where practical subjects are concerned, but even these can be largely overcome if there is the will. To be of assistance to those students who, because of distance from elementary or high schools, or who suffer physical disabilities, the Department or Education has provided for correspondence school courses leading up to university entrance.

Teachers Conclude Two-Day Convention In Edmonton

Current trends in education were discussed by over 800 northern Alberta teachers when they met for a two-day session in Edmonton this week.

Rural teachers were present from Lac Ste. Anne, Sturgeon, Thorhild, Barrhead, Clover Bar, Coal Branch, Edson-Jasper, Stony Plain and Westlock divisions at the sessions held in the Masonic Temple.

Following registration, teachers were welcomed by Mayor Parsons, with an invocation given by Rev. E. J. Bailey of First Baptist Church.

General secretary of the Alberta Teachers' Association, Eric C. Ansley, addressed the opening session, followed by the minister of education, Hon. Ivan Casey.

Feature speaker at Monday's afternoon's session was Dr. F. G. Buchanan, Calgary, superintendent of schools.

In his address he stressed that the aim of education should be the total benefit of the individual pupil, and added that no pupil should be kept in one grade more than two years.

"It is highly unlikely that a repeated grade adds much to a pupil's knowledge," Dr. Buchanan told the teachers.

Pupils who become older than their classmates usually leave school at the earliest possible date, he said.

Dr. Buchanan said that of 100 students entering first grade, only 22 complete high school, and only three finish university.

Dr. Buchanan stressed the importance of praise as an incentive to greater effort. He suggested that teachers refrain from criticism unmixed with encouragement. Pick out the good aspects of a pupils work, and mention them, he said.

Often too great stress is put on lecturing, with teachers neglecting visual aids. Collections of pictures from magazines and papers, for instance, are invaluable to students, he concluded.

Local divisional meetings and talks by A. A. Aldridge, supervisor of guidance, and B.Y. Card of the University Faculty of Education, highlighted Tuesday's sessions.

First Edmonton District Teachers' executive, Michael Skuba, of Smoky Lake, president; A. J. Styra, of Radway, vice-president; and Donald Murray, Alcomdale, secretary-treasurer, were in charge of arrangements.

BUSY HOUSEWIFE'S HOBBY

Jasper Place Woman Raises Birds in Spare Time

By Daphne Allbright

A busy housewife of Jasper Place has found time in the past few years to raise one of the largest bird colonies in the Edmonton area.

We were introduced to her favorite, a paddy-green budgri gar, who, appropriately enough was called Paddy. Paddy, a born show-off, went through his performance with the aplomb of an old stager.

In common with the rest of his breed, Paddy has the ability to talk and he did. It seems that a good deal of time must have been spent in teaching Paddy to say among other things, "Paddy bird, pretty bird, wotcher doing," and "O, you cute thing." But Mrs. Dugas says that any of these birds can easily be trained in three to six months.

She also mentioned that the birds are easily raised and prove to be entertaining pets.

We left Paddy chattering to himself and on the way to the main aviary located in the basement, we met Paddy's off-spring who is a younger edition of Paddy himself. Believe it or not over a hundred chattering ,chirping, loving birds were there. All the colors of the spectrum were represented.

A cobalt blue, turquoise blue, paddy green, chartreuse green, yellow and mauve, as well as varying shades of all these colors were there to choose from. The most outstanding, we thought, was an odd little fellow. white in color with red eyes. He was an albino, a rare speciman worth $50. Around the corner, in a cage of their own, were six Cockateels, cute fellows with yellow heads and rouge on their cheeks.

On leaing the avairy, we were shown some day-old "Budgies", not over an inch long and featherless. It was hard to believe that these would grow up to be so beautiful.

Mr. Cidor Palkun has failed to get any trace of the four work horses that disappeared from his farm last spring. Stray horses find a ready market in mink feed with not too many questions asked as to proper ownership.

Harry Zapasoki recovered two of his horses last spring before the thieves were able to get clear, after selling to the horse trade at Lac la Biche. One man received two years, the other three months. Horse buyers should be careful in purchasing except through reliable sources.

ATMORE NEWS

My apologies—Dolores Presber is not attending school at Lac la Biche. She has returned to her school in Saskatchewan.

A fairly successful dance was held in the Atmore Community hall on Friday the thirteenth. In spite of the would-be superstition attached to the day nothing happened.

Mr. Grenier has invested in a brand new Cockshutt 40 tractor, also in an International combine.

Paul Dakin and family have moved to Prince George—lock, stock and barrel. They expect to be away for an indefinite period of time.

Card of Thanks

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Tkachuk wish to thank all those who attended their wedding. Many thanks to those that gave them the lovely gifts by which they can remember this special occasion.

Road Crews Busy Again At McRae

McRAE.— Field and Davis Construction crew have started work again, after an idle four weeks waiting for favorable weather or more money, two chronic ills in road building for the district.

Threshing is again underway at McRae, although conditions are not very favorable to dry grain.

LETTER TO LOUISA

Mother of Two Worried By Travelling Husband

Dear Louisa—I have a husband who has a good job traveling and is only home on the week-ends.

I have a little girl by a former marriage and a baby by this husband.

My husband thinks I should leave my little girl and follow him around on his trips although we have invested money in a business here and someone needs to look after it.

He seemed very proud of my little girl before we were married but now he seems to dislike her. He never buys her anything and doesn't want me to get her things although buying for the baby is all right?

He gives me very little money and what he does with the rest of his salary, I do not know. When he comes home he is very cross and it is really no pleasure having him.

I am very much distressed as I feel that his attitude to my little girl will ruin our whole family life besides doing her harm.

I hate to leave my husband but I can't see where things are getting any better.

PUZZLED.

Answer:—

Yours is a bad situation and unless your husband is a man who can listen to reason and help work out your problems, there does not seem to be much chance of things getting better.

Evidently he is jealous of your little girl and the attention you give her and takes it out on all the family by being cross and stingy.

If your husband was a good provider and his only fault was being jealous of your little girl, it might be better for all of the family for you to compromise by letting your little girl stay with her grandmother part of the time. In this way you could go with him some of the time and be able to do more for the child financially.

But if your husband does not support you, I can see no reason to stay with him and suffer fuss and confusion every time he comes home. Certainly, such an atmosphere is not a good one for children growing up.

LOUISA.

Dear Louisa:—

I have three more months before I finish as a trained nurse but I have fallen in love with a boy who wants me to marry him. I have only known him two months as he comes from another state.

My parents want me to finish by course but he wants me to marry him right away.

What do you think I should do?

EIGHTEEN.

Answer:—

Finish your course and then marry him. Surely if he loves you he won't want you to throw away three years of hard work by not waiting three months to get your diploma.

In these times, every girl should know how to make a living. She does not know what the future holds for her and she may be left a widow with little children to support. If she has a good paying profession it may save her grief and worry.

It also seems to me that you have known this boy a very short time to be considering giving up everything in order to marry him.

LOUISA.

SEARCH FOR TALENT SHOW UNDERWAY IN ALBERTA

The visit to Thorhild was the first of 28 Search-for-Talent programs to be presented by the Associated Canadian Travellers, in the interests of the Northern Alberta Crippled Children's Fund.

The Search-for-Talent program has been planned with a threefold purpose — the raising of funds to support Northern Alberta Crippled children; providing top-notch entretainment both on the stage and over the air for northern Alberta communities; and the search for local talent in communities where such opportunities do not ordinarily prevail.

The search for talent crusade is the major fund-raising project for the Northern Alberta Crippled Children conducted by the Edmonton Club of the Associated Canadian Travellers. Each Saturday for 28 consecutive weeks, twelve members of the A.C.T., a cast of ten artists, and the Radio Station CFRN technicians and a master of ceremonies, present their Search-for-Talent program in northern Alberta towns.

The Search-for-Talent committee has been laying plans for several weeks, lining up the communities and making all advance arrangements in connection with entries and accommodation. To date the following towns are booked: Nov. 4, Viking; Nov. 11, Sangudo; Nov. 18, Ryley; Nov. 25, Lamont; Dec. 2, Evansburg; Dec. 9, Willingdon; Jan. 6, Camrose; Jan. 13, Bon Accord; and Jan. 20, Ponoka.

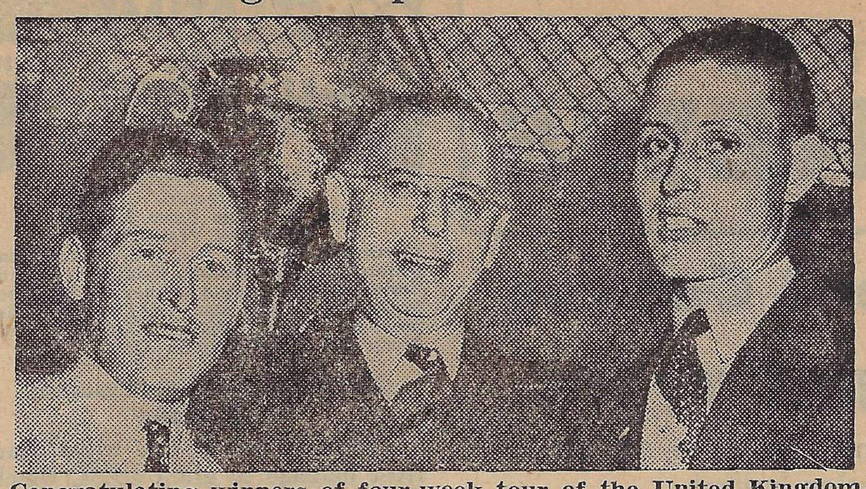

The A.C.T. Northern Alberta Crippled Children's Fund Committee is also sponsoring Edmonton's second annual Car Bonspiel, Oct. 30 to Nov. 4.

Many Accidents Reported On Boyle Highway

GRASSLAND — Another truck accident occurred on the Boyle highway for the fourth week in succession. A truck accident was reported when Mr. Wayne Fischer of Atmore, turned his truck over on the highway three times and went into the ditch. The vehicle was badly wrecked, but no one was injured seriously.

Mr. Harry Fascher, Mr. Nick Campbell and Mr. Harry Lapachuk were also in the truck when the accident happened.

Plowing Champions Are Honored

Original Music Latest Cultural Trend Here

Canadian music, new in itself, is now becoming popular abroad faster than it is being recognized right here in this country.

It is an anomaly of the Canadian cultural scene that, although music is an art in which Canadians have made significant contributions, the works of Canadian composers and the talents of Canadian performers remained, until the end of the war, little known to the Canadian public.

Since 1945, this situation has steadily improved. The number of orchestras and performers willing to introduce new Canadian works into their repertoires has notably increased, and an audience for Canadian composers and musicians is being created.

The establishment within the last few years of BMI Canada Limited, an affiliate of Broadcast Music Incorporated of the United States, directed jointly by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and the Canadian Association of Broadcasters, has further increased the opportunities for publishing Canadian scores. Already this organization has issued more than 30 works by young Canadian composers such as Barbara Pentland, Harry Somers, Jean-Papineau Couture, Albertine Caron-Legris and Kenneth Peacock.

Since its inception in February 1945, the CBC International Service has also made known to listeners in Latin America and Europe a large number of new Canadian musical works. Besides these broadcasts, the International Service has donated many albums of Canadian compositions and recorded programs containing the works by Canadians to foreign radio stations. The curious result has been that there are a number of compositions written in this country that have been heard by foreign radio audiences but not by Canadians. In fact, certain Canadian composers are better known in Mexico and Denmark than they are at home.

CANADA FACTS BOOK ISSUED

Quick Canadian Facts, a digest-sized volume about Canada and Canadians, was issued this week. The new book contains feature aritcles about the RCMP, about postage stamps, about the country's progress and system of government and a question—and answer section that provides an informative quiz game covering many aspects of Canadian afafirs. In its sixth year of publication Quick Canadian Facts contains 136 pages. It is distributed nationally through bookstores and newsstands.

Some of the interesting facts contained in the new book are that Cape Breton Island was at one time a separate province, that Alexander Graham Bell was first to take a man aloft in Canada in a heavier-than-air-machine, that the province of Prince Edward Island is only one-sixth the size of Vancouver Island, that the average Russian industrial worker earns the price of a pound of sugar in two hours whereas the average Canadian works only six minutes for his.

In addition to such sidelights on Canada and Canadians the 1950-1951 edition of Quick Canadian Facts contains very complete statistical data and reports on the most important aspects of our national life.

Canadian Wheat Costing More to Foreign Buyers

As the Canadian dollar advances in value, all products of Canada will cost more to the foreign buyers.

According to the Washington correspondent of the Northwestern Miller, United States flour millers are anticipating a better opportunity to dispose of United States flour in South America because of the change in the Canadian dollar. Up until recently Canadian flour had a 9c advantage over the United States product in South America.

Sales of Canadian wheat and flour to Great Britain may also be affected. The United Kingdom has been a free buyer in Australia, having doubled its purchases so far this year. The Australian government has refused to revalue the pound in spite of pressure so to do.

SEEDTIME and HARVEST

By
Dr. F. J. GREANEY
Director,
Line Elevators Farm Service,
Winnipeg, Manitoba
sponsored by the following companies: Federal, Alberta Pacific, Pioneer, Western, Canadian Consolidated, Paterson, McCabe, Parrish & Heimbecker, Inter-Ocean, Independent, Ellison Milling, Canada West, Robin Hood and Quaker Oats.

Germination Tests Important "A Warning"

The early, severe and widespread frost damage to grain crops, which occurred throughout Western Canada this year, emphasizes the great need for germination tests on seed stocks held for planting in 1951. We urge farmers to get this job done this fall.

Don't Take A Chance. In dealing with this year's crop it is not enough for a farmer to know that the grain he is keeping for seed has life, but rather how much life. In plain words, will it germinate satisfactorily. Don't take a chance! Be sure and get the "right slant" on the vigor or germinability of the seed you harvest this fall.

Free Testing Service. To serve western farmers, Line Elevators Farm Service operates a modern, efficient cereal seed testing laboratory. Annually, for the past 10 years, we have made germination and other seed tests on thousands of farmers' seed-grain samples. Again, this year, we invite farmers to make full use of our free seed testing facilities. In addition to a test for germination we will, on request, undertake to examine farmers' seed samples for surface-borne smut, weed seed content, and purity as to variety. It must be pointed out, however, that tests made by Line Elevators Farm Service are not official government tests. Seed offered for sale must be tested at a government seed testing laboratory, that is, by the Plant Products Division at Winnipeg, Saskatoon, or Calgary.

Submit Samples Early. All a farmer has to do to have a free germination test made is to take a truly representative sample of his seed-grain, 4 to 6 ounces of cleaned seed, to the local elevator of any of the Line Elevator Companies listed above. The Agent will provide a clean enevelope, labels, etc., and forward the sample to Winnipeg for testing. Farmers and grain buyers should submit samples for testing as soon as possible. Don't delay, do it today.

Reunion Banquet Held At Mayerthorpe

MAYERTHORPE—A re-union banquet of the men's 31st Regiment of the First World War was recently held at the home Mr. and Mrs. Jack Calder. Allan Lewis, Jack Calder and Mrs. McMillan of Greencourt, are the only members around this district.

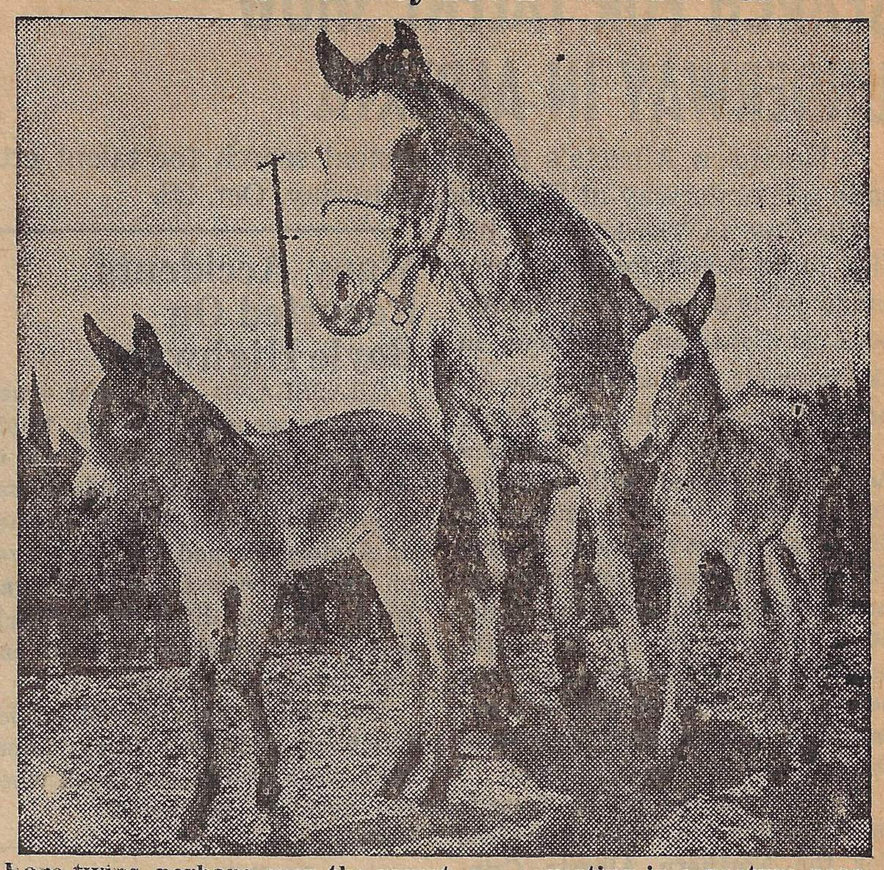

Sixteen visitors attended from Edmonton.

The Anglican WA catered to the banquet, and a toast was given to the ladies by Mr. Harrison of Edmonton. All members present spent a very enjoyable evening.

Horse Has Donkey for Twin Brother

Rare twins, perhaps even the rarest, are cavorting in a pasture near Crescent, Utah. One was sired by a horse, the other by a donkey. The owner says the mare, shown with her twins, was bred to a palomino and returned to pasture with a little donkey.

CANADA'S PROTEIN GRADING RECOGNIZED AS EXCELLENT

A full account of research on protein grading being undertaken by the Board of Grain Commissioners Laboratory was presented by Dr. J. A. Anderson, Chief Chemist of the Board, at a meeting of the committee on Western Grain Standards held in Winnipeg recently.

The Board's Grain Research Laboratory has been investigating the possibilities of protein grading for several years. Records have been kept of the protein content, bushel weight, grade and shipping point of every 20th car in each of the statutory grades.

Dr. Anderson pointed out that there are two main proposals for taking account of protein content in marketing wheat.

The first of these is used in the United States. It involves grading systems almost identical with the Canadian system. Protein content is not a factor in these American grades. In certain markets, after the wheat has been graded, it is sold on sample and premiums may or may not be paid for protein levels above the average. It is misleading to call this protein grading. It is better to call it a sample market with protein premiums.

The Board of Grain Commissioners Laboratory has analyzed what can be called the "traditional" proposal for protein grading. This involves setting minimum levels for protein content of each grade, just as is done for bushel weight, maturity, etc. It was suggested that minimum levels of 12.5 per cent, 11.5 per cent, and 10.5 per cent protein might be set for Grades 1, 2 and 3 Northern respectively.

This procedure simply introduces another de-grading factor. No farmer gains a grade because his wheat is high in protein content. But over 5 per cent of farmers would lose one to two grades because of low protein content. Some improvement in the uniformity of No. 1 Northern would occur at the expense of Nos. 3 and 4 Northern.

Chief Commissioner, Mr. D. G. McKenzie, pointed out that it had taken more than 30 years to establish the confidence that millers in the United Kingdom now have in the Canadian grading system. It is widely acknowledged that this system is the best in use anywhere in the world.

Pearl Osga Weds Walter Stuparyk

CRAIGEND.— A nice wedding took place in the Ukrainian Greek Orthodox church at Craigend, when Mr. W. Stuparyk exchanged vows with his loving bride, Pearl Osga. Before the marriage Rev. Fik performed a nice ceremony. The bride entered the church and was followed by two flower girls who were Adeline Stuparyk, sister of the groom, and Sophie Stuparyk, cousin of the groom. Behind the flower girls followed the bridesmaids and then the groom and his best man followed last. The bride looked lovely in a long sheer white gown and a floor-length veil, held in place by a crown covered with diamonds. The bridesmaids also chose floor-length gowns and shoulder-length veils. The two little flower girls were also dressed in long pink taffeta gowns and had shoulder length veils held up by little wreaths.

The groom was smartly dressed in a brown striped suit. The best-men were Ernest Uandiga, Nick Schar, John Wowk and Mike Stuparyk (brother of the groom).

After the ceremony in church all relatives and friends went to the groom's parents place where a most delicious dinner was served.In the evening a lovely dance was held at a platform, near the house. Also a nice supper was served to the guests who came later. The bride's table was decorated with a lovely cake. The young couple received many beautiful presents and they will reside in Craigend.

A bazaar was held at Craigend hall and a dance followed after. We also see people have bad colds after the dance.

Mr. M. Warawa is home now after working for some time in B.C.

Mr. W. Prochinsky's new house is under construction. We see quite a few neighbors helping.

The Craigend school children were excited last Thursday when the mail man failed to bring their mail.

Miss Adeline Happner made a trip to the city where she atteended her brothers' wedding. As her gown she chose a lovely floor-length of satin.

We hear Mr. Novitski is sporting around with a new Chevrolet truck. Wish you luck, friend.

Winnie Bushard was helping Mrs. Prochinsky for e few weeks.

We see Miss O. Stuparyk really going places with the ford. Hope you don't go to fast. Make 30 be your limit.

Mr. E. Huppie was home for a couple of days. He is one of the three boys who went to work with the oil gang again.

Former Resident Visits Plamondon

PLAMONDON. — Mr. Simon Plamondon who has for long been resident of Plamondon and who resided in B.C. for several years is now visiting relatives and friends in Plamondon. Rumors have been said he might reside in Plamondon.

Visiting at the nurse's home Mrs. Sommerville were Mrs. C. Hainsworth of Fiaux Lowsout, Ont., and Mr. E. Fraser of Youngstown.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Plamondon of Lac la Biche visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Plamondon on Sunday.

Mr. Louis Ulliac is also sporting a new ton GMC truck.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Plamondon are now moved in the Alex Rowland home which they have rented for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Andre Gaudet are now moved in Plamondon. Yvette is teaching and Andre is employed at Bob's garage.

Mr. Albin Gauthier is now working in E. Erickson's repair shop. The family will be moving in town later.

And my greatest amusement is to keep my subscribers in suspense, yes! you can imagine what's coming eh? wedding bells will soon be ringing when one of our young girls exchanges vows with those of a young man of our neighboring district. No, no names.

Miss Lucie Lemay spent the week-end at her sister's place, Mrs. Clifford Mitchell of Lac la Biche.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

No One Doubts Presence Of Evil In Society

No one doubts the presence of temptation to evil in our modern society today. Most of us agree with Paul, who declared, "When I would do good, evil is present with me."

It is a comfort to know, however that Jesus was tempted in all points, like as we are, yet he was without sin (Heb. 4:15). Our reference from Matthew tells of some of his temptations. These temptations were tests of his ideals, his objectives, and his methods. It is interesting to point out that all of these temptations were met by Jesus with a quotation from the Bible. Bible knowledge will help us in our struggle with temptation and living in keeping with our knowledge of God's word is the only safe plan for the Christian.

Jesus declared that no man can serve two masters and two masters are striving for the control of every man's soul — Christ and the devil. Their power pulls in opposite directions and leads to opposite goals, therefore, they cannot be served at the same time. The life that is consecrated to Christ is completely identified with him. Therefore, the consecrated Christian who is devoted to his church, to his Christ, and to the practice of prayer and Bible study has a bulwark to strengthen him or her against the temptations of modern life.

Probably, one of the strongest temptations men and women face today is that of whether or not to drink alcoholic beverages. So many believe the argument that he or she cannot be successful in business or accepted in society, unless he drinks social cocktails or serves alcoholic beverages in his home. This line of argument is carried so often in the atractive advertisements displayed in current magazines and newspapers.

Joseph Hirsch, one-time executive director of the Research Council on the Problems of Alcohol presents these figures about drinking in the United States: "Out of 60,000,000 consumers of alcoholic beverages .... .... there are 3,750,000 excessive drinkers." This means that one of every fifteen "moderate" drinkers has become an alcoholic. Probably, each of the 3,750,000 "problem drinkers" used to assure himself and his friends " I can take a drink or I can leave it alone."

Those who would withstand temptation, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ, should put on the Christian's armor outlined by Paul in Eph. 6:10-18: (1) the breastplate of righteousness—integrity of charcter; (2) the shield of faith, which protects one against the invasion of doubt and fear; (3) the helmet of salvation, as a security against the forces of darkness; (4) the girdle of truth —an unfailing source of strength in time of temptation; (5) the shoes of the gospel, which enable a Christian to go forward in the face of all odds, spreading the message of the Gospel as he goes; (6) the sword of the spirit, which is the Word of God—using the scripture to resist temptation as did Christ; (7) the power of prayer—which equips the Child of God for every test and trial.

One Sunday a little girl told her mother that she had been bad in Sunday School. To this her mother answered, "God doesn't like little children to be naughty, because He loves them. So when they're naughty it makes Him feel bad."

After a few minutes of thought, the little girl answered: "Well, if He loves us so darn much, why doesn't He come and see us some time?"

Liberal Minister Reports On Industrial Revolution

Canada is experiencing an industrial revolution similar in nature to that which took the United States to the top, Hon. J. J. McCann, federal minister of mines and technical surveys, said in an address last week at a Chamber of Commerce luncheon in Edmonton.

"There has been so much development crowded into such a short time it is hard to appraise it," the minister declared. "A little while ago there was discouragement that there were any chances for further major oil discoveries in Canada and, frankly, we were in a bad position. Western oil consumption was rising and import-restrictions were imposed to conserve dollars," he continued.

Major Oil Industry

"Then came Leduc No. 1. It seemed to act as a sort of catalyst that brought a series of discoveries into motion," Dr. McCann said. "A major oil industry is coming into being in a country that was dependent on outside sources for almost 90 percent of its petroleum requirements."

Recent events, he said, are contributing to a great industrial pattern in Canada. He cited the oil, great iron developments in Ontario and Quebec and growth of asbestos production in Ontario.

The largest iron and titanium refinery in the world is located in Quebec, Dr. McCann said. It is capable of refining 500 tons of iron per day and 750 tons of titanium.

Rapid Development

"A striking feature of all the developments is the rapidity with which they are emerging as major segments of our mineral resources," Dr. McCann declared. "The swift pace of developments is in keeping with the colorful and efficient discovery of our mineral wealth."

There are 110,000 persons directly employed in the mining industry and they draw about $300,000,000 a year, he said. Minerals account for 26 percent of Canada's exports, he added.

In reply to statements that Canada's mineral resources are "untapped and unlimited," the minister said such is not the case.

Tax Concessions

Tax concessions to mining concerns "hinge on the government's desire to aid the development of natural resources," Dr. McCann stated. "In giving these concessions Canada has gone further than any other country in the world," he said.

"But we must think of these developments not only in relation to domestic needs but also of world needs," he warned. "The fortunes of Canadians are linked to those of other lands.

"I am not moralizing, but facing the realities of a changing world," Dr. McCann continued. "We can't afford to ignore aiding development of other countries."

Many Denied Rights At Recent School Division Meet

By Henry Thompson

Bachelors, widowers parents without school-age or near age children and all absentee parents are being deprived of a voice in a school centralization plan in northern Alberta.

This dangerous situation was uncovered at a public meeting recently at Sudgen, when Mr. Rosette of St. Paul declared: 'That by order of the St. Paul Divisional Board, no person who is not the parent of school age or near school age children will be permitted to vote on the acceptance or refusal of the proposed centralization of five schools—Conrad, McRae, Sugden, Beaver River and Side View. Nor will any parent absent from this meeting be considered in any decision arrived at later."

Being in the first banned category, let me state at the outset, that I am one hundred per cent in agreement with the Inspector's statements, of the greater advantage of education in centralized schools and the van service. Mr. Rosette quite frankly admitted the handicap and disadvantage to the plan in our familiar and notorious bad roads. His solution, in the consultation and cooperation of three bodies, division officials, road officers and the people is idealistic in the extreme but after all, is the only common sense approach to this vexatious problem.

While we are in agreement with the plan, we emphatically object to the high handed and bureaucratic assumption by the divisional board, in their actions of usurping legislative powers. Perhaps the government has delegated these powers in the enlarged division school act. If true, then it behooves us as electors to inquire more diligently into the reasons behind an act so one sided and sinister in its implications: If the board lacks this power, then it is high time that the ratepayers really get out and vote members to the board, who will give us a sane interpretation of legislation along true democratic principles.

The Russians have a system of testing public opinion, called votting, that is very effective: for the communist party. Only communist party candidates names are on the ballet. The people can choose only from the party slate. Our divisional board have a slight variation, their system is to select the voters and leave the others black listed.

The lack of faith or appreciation in the intergrity, judgment and public spirited behaviour of the hundreds, who will be effected by this nonsensical rule is no credit to the board. That a bonifide Canadian citizen, who has no children at the moment, must be barred from a voice or choice in public affairs is hardly credible. Canadian blood is being offered to preserve the individual rights of man on the other side of the world. Here at home these principles are deliberately spurned.

Our own divisional board trustee, also belongs to their black list classification by their own arguments. If a chidless persons is a bar to good judgment, then he has no right to act in any capacity in reference to this centralization question.

A good product or a good idea needs no compulsion or bureaucratic rule to enforce its acceptance. Mr. Rosette's presentation of the plan secured 71 per cent in favor by those designated by the board as citizens.

The price of liberty is eternal vigilance, but this abuse to democratic rights deserves the widest publicity and should be a timely warning to peiple heretofore indifferent to the great privilege of citizenship and the right to a voice or vote in matters of public interest.
